Read "How Grandma Met Grandpa." Then answer questions 5-8.

How Grandma Met Grandpa

Grandma's diamond wedding ring sparkled in the sunlight. It reminded Jen of a story her grandmother often told. Jen asked, "Tell me again how you met Grandpa."

"Well," her grandmother replied, "that was a long time ago. We both were on our way to America on a steamship. We were coming from Ireland. Each of us had grown up in a different part of the country, and we did not know each other."

Jen's grandmother continued, "Times were hard. A disease had killed my family's potato crop, so I often went to bed hungry. I was leaving my family for the first time and traveling alone to a strange, new country. I didn't have much luggage. I had sold most of my things to buy a ticket for the boat."

"My feet felt heavy as I walked toward the boat. All of a sudden, Grandpa came out of nowhere. He was in such a hurry that he ran into me and knocked me down. When he helped me up, his big smile and friendly green eyes cheered me up. The rest is history."

5. What type of text is this?
 - a. Narrative text
 - b. Reference text
 - c. Expository text
6. What can you infer about Jen's grandma's family?
 - a. They were rich.
 - b. They were poor.
 - c. They liked to travel.
7. Why did Jen's grandma need cheering up?
 - a. She lost her luggage.
 - b. She was sad and lonely.
 - c. She didn't like eating potatoes.
8. Underline a clue from the text that helped you answer #7.
