

Read "The World Cup: The Super Bowl of Soccer" and answer questions 12-14.

The World Cup: The Super Bowl of Soccer

There are about 200 million soccer players in the world. There are even more soccer fans. Every four years a big soccer playoff called the World Cup is held. It is the biggest sports event on the planet.

Teams come from all over the world. People travel from many countries to come to watch their home team. Stadiums fill with cheering fans. People also cheer in front of TV screens all over the world. Over a billion people watch the World Cup on TV.

The first World Cup was held in 1930. Every four years since then, the world has gone crazy over soccer. Like the Olympics, the World Cup is held in a different country each time. The World Cup has been held on four continents.

Soccer fans speak many languages, but during the World Cup they all speak soccer. The whole world cheers together.

1. What type of text is "World Cup Soccer"?
 - a. Narrative text
 - b. Expository text
 - c. Reference text

2. Which of the following statements from "The World Cup: The Super Bowl of Soccer" is most important?
 - a. The World Cup has been held in four continents.
 - b. Every four years a big soccer playoff called the World Cup is held.
 - c. Stadiums fill with cheering fans.

3. Which of the following is the best summary for "The World Cup: The Super Bowl of Soccer"?
 - a. There are about 200 million soccer players in the world. There are even more soccer fans. People travel from many countries to come to watch their home team. Stadiums fill with cheering fans. People also cheer in front of TV screens all over the world. Over a billion people watch the World Cup on TV. Soccer fans speak many languages. During the World Cup they all speak soccer. The whole world cheers together.
 - b. The first world cup was held in 1930. Every four years since then, the world has gone crazy over soccer.
 - c. The World Cup is the largest soccer playoff in the world. It is held every four years in a different country each time. There are about 200 million soccer players in the world. Over a billion fans watch the World Cup on TV or travel to the playoffs to cheer their team on.